Fostering pets:

Providing a loving temporary home

By Pauline Balta

"Me foster?" "I don't know..." "Will my pets do okay with a new animal?" "What if the new animal does not like my pets?" These are questions we all ask ourselves when contemplating fostering an animal. Then there are the many happy stories of "failed fosters" when the foster family falls in love with the animal and keeps it!

In October 2012, I represented Lincoln Animal Ambassadors (LAA) at Lincoln's Project Homeless Connect. Project Homeless Connect is a coalition developed to set up a day when all local organizations providing services for Lincoln's citizens at risk for becoming homeless or are homeless, come together in one space to provide easy access.

During the event, a gentleman, Kevin, came to LAA's table asking if we knew of an available foster home. Kevin needed back surgery and wanted to find a temporary home for his beloved dog, Melanie Elizabeth, a beautiful black lab blend. He stated he would not have surgery until he knew she was being loved and cared for in a good temporary home.

Kevin adopted Melanie at four months of age from a shelter in Vancouver, Washington. She had been abused so it took lots of Kevin's time, patience and devotion before Melanie completely trusted him. Melanie is now a very confident, happy, and smart girl. It turned out that now, because of Kevin's back injury and a series of unfortunate incidents, Kevin was at risk for becoming homeless.

The more I talked to Kevin, the more I knew I could foster Melanie. He described her as loving, happy, able to get along with any dog and liking kitties. Knowing all this, I made the decision to foster Melanie in my home.

Kevin could not wait many days to have his surgery and because of severe pain, had to be admitted to the hospital several days prior to his scheduled surgery. The next day I picked up Melanie and knew I would love her when about two minutes into the ride home, she tossed a tennis ball into the front seat. My dogs accepted her. My kitties soon learned Melanie would not harm them.

It turned out Melanie is an expert counter-surfer! Her final "epic" surf at my house was to surf a brand-new, never-opened jar of grape jam off the counter, open it, eat half of it and not spill one drop. Among the other items surfed AND eaten: at least two pears, one avocado, five tomatoes, three loaves of bread, and one-half homemade apple pie. Melanie's surfing at my house has become a legend and provides for very entertaining stories!

Several times Kevin was able to visit Melanie at my house, and what reunions those were. I knew Melanie had not forgotten "Poppa" when I asked her, "Where is Poppa?" and she spent the rest of the evening looking out the front window. I did not ask her that again.

LAA received memorial donations on behalf of the following:

In memory of Antoinette (Toni) Hereth, LAA volunteer Anna Pasold's sister, from an anonymous donor

In memory of Ken Kavanagh, LAA volunteer Donna Kavanagh's father, from an anonymous donor

In memory of Ruth B. Kaiser, LAA volunteer Brady Rivers' grandmother, from her family

A memorial to LAA in memory of a loved one is a wonderful way to honor that special person who has passed on. Please consider this option if you are interested in donating to a worthy cause in memory of, or in honor of, a loved one. Giving to LAA is a way to honor your loved one's support of local animal welfare causes, and we thank you for your support to further our efforts in improving the lives of animals in the Lincoln area.

The day came when Kevin called with the good news—he had found an apartment and was ready for Melanie to be back with “Poppa.”

I fed Melanie's excitement to be “going for a ride” by telling her we were going to find Poppa! She bounced around in the back seat, “talking” to the people in cars next to us, whining, and giving me sloppy kisses. High excitement hit when she spotted Kevin waiting outside as we drove up to his new home. True to what Poppa said, Melanie inspected every square inch of her new home, and then focused on Poppa. Kevin sent me a picture later showing Melanie completely stretched out on her new sofa, sound asleep.

I cried tears of humbleness, joy, sadness, and pride—the best adjectives I can think of—on my way home. I consider my experience a triple win!

1. Kevin was able to get his life back on track while,
2. Melanie Elizabeth was in a place where she was loved, and;

3. I benefited with so many wonderful feelings of gratitude and joy caring for such a sweet, precious, silly dog who shared her love with me.

To think that Kevin would entrust me with the care of his most treasured being was very humbling.

The message behind this and one that needs to be brought to the front is that fostering pets is a wonderful, character-growing, positive thing you can do for the pet's good, and selfishly, your own good. Lincoln Animal Ambassadors' mission is to reduce the number of homeless pets in the Lincoln area. Fostering pets is one very important way to keep pets in homes until they can be reunited with their guardians or adopted.

There are many fostering opportunities in the Lincoln area. Whether it is The Cat House, Nebraska No Kill Canine Rescue, Capital Humane Society or the other breed rescues located in Lincoln; one of these organizations always has opportunities for you to help them by fostering.

Featured Rescue: Big Dogs Huge Paws

A Giant Breed Rescue with a Giant Mission

Big Dogs Huge Paws, Inc. (BDHPI) was founded on the core philosophy that every “Big” dog deserves a chance, and that is exactly what their All-Volunteer rescue is providing... Second Chances. They are doing more than rescuing Big Dogs, they are giving them a brand new life.

BDHIP's mission is three-fold. First, they rescue their gentle giants from any number of tragic situations. Next, they identify medical or behavioral rehabilitation needs and see that those are met prior to matching with a forever family. Finally, they aim to be a trusted resource for giant breed information not only on their website www.bigdogshugepaws.com, but through community outreach, social media, and online forums.

The Big Dogs at the heart of the rescue include Great Danes, Great Pyrenees, Newfoundlands, Saint Bernards, Mastiffs, Irish Wolfhounds, and Scottish Deerhounds. Take a peek at the adorable and adoptable dogs on the website.

If you have a Big Heart for Big Dogs, being a BDHPI volunteer might be the perfect fit. From fostering to database management, they have many opportunities available. Check us out at www.bigdogshugepaws.com/volunteer to download a volunteer application today.

Volunteer Spotlight: Deb DeFruiter

Deb and her canine companion, Little Fox, hamming it up for the camera.

Q: Where did you first learn about Lincoln Animal Ambassadors?

A: Through the local animal welfare grapevine

Q: Tell us a little about yourself. Feel free to share as little or as much as you'd like. Millions will read this (okay, hundreds at least)!

A: I come from a family of six children. Currently, I live with my Pomeranian, Little Fox as well as my garage cat, Clapton. I am happiest when surrounded by plants and animals. Laughing is my favorite hobby, and I like avocados!

Q: What areas do you primarily volunteer for us in at this time?

A: I volunteer in the Pet Food Bank and help in setting up for fundraisers.

Q: What do you find rewarding in your volunteer activities?

A: Knowing I have helped someone keep their pets from going hungry.

Q: Do you do other volunteer work in Lincoln?

A: I do also help The Coalition for Pet Protection, another animal welfare group here in town. (Visit www.petcoalition.org for more information!)

Q: What would you recommend to anyone looking to volunteer for Lincoln Animal Ambassadors?

A: We could probably use more people to retrieve calls and do call backs from the hot line.

Q: If you could add one thing to the Lincoln Animal Ambassadors "wish list," what would it be?

A: A new lockbox!

We thank volunteers like Deb. LAA is a 100% volunteer organization, and without dedicated volunteers like Deb, we would not be able to provide the services we do with our low-cost spay/neuter program and our pet food bank.

If you'd like to become a volunteer with Lincoln Animal Ambassadors, please contact us at 402-817-1168 or fill out a volunteer application on our website, www.lincolnanimalambassadors.org.

Amazon is a source of endless shopping and now, through Fundinco, an easy way to raise funds for LAA's programs. Before visiting Amazon, head to Fundinco.org, find Lincoln Animal Ambassadors' page through the "Find Your Organization" toolbar, then click the "begin shopping" button. We receive three percent of each dollar spent. Shoppers can also contribute to LAA's pet food bank by purchasing an item from our Amazon wishlist, including cat litter, flea and tick preventatives, and collars.

Lincoln Animal Ambassador's assistance programs are successful thanks to donations from people who want to make a difference in the lives of their community's people and animals. We hope these new fundraising opportunities will allow us to make stronger connections with our valued donors.

LAA WANTS YOU

We are in need of volunteers to help with our programs.

Do you have good telephone skills to pick up phone calls?

Do you have good writing skills?

Do you blog, Facebook, or Tweet?

Do you like to participate in volunteer fairs?

Can you help with newsletter or poster delivery?

Are you skilled in marketing or fundraising?

A "yes" to any of these means we might have a spot for you! We are a 100% volunteer organization and if you are looking to put your skills to work for a good cause. Visit our website and go to the "What you can do" page and fill out the volunteer application online!

LAA fundraising opportunities Help while you shop

From paint colors to frozen yogurt toppings, it's great to have a variety of options. The same goes for making donations. Dropping a check in the mail is all well and good, but there should be other opportunities for contributing to an important cause. Lincoln Animal Ambassadors is excited to announce our partnership with two fun new fundraising programs, Pickit and Fundinco.

The brainchild of a group of University of Nebraska-Lincoln students, the Pickit app lets Android and iPhone users enjoy deals at a variety of Lincoln shops and restaurants while supporting local nonprofit organizations. Users download the app from pickitmobile.com, choose LAA as one of their favorite charities, then redeem coupons and deals at local merchants simply by scanning a QR code at the register. Half the proceeds from the deals go to the user's favorite organizations.

from the community

LAA would like to share some of the “thank you’s” and notes of encouragement we have received from program recipients and community partners:

“Thank you and this organization for helping me and Jasmine to be able to be a family. I am excited and a little nervous about doing this. I just want her to be happy in her new home. I would not have been able to do this without your help. Thank you so very much!” – Jo

“Thank you for providing me with the opportunity to have two of my cats spayed. They more or less adopted me when I moved into a new home and they were already residents. I want to thank you for providing this wonderful service—it is such an expensive time to own and care for pets—and this helps so much” – Jill

“Our cat has an appointment with the vet... I am very excited and thankful.” – Nan

“I wanted to thank you for the dog and cat food I picked up last night. The people were all so kind and helpful. I look forward to attending the Pet Guardianship 101 class. I would also like to volunteer to help out your organization in any way I can. With many thanks and much gratitude” – Deb

“THANK YOU for helping to alter my cat!” – Andrea

In response to receiving spay/neuter vouchers: “Thank you soooooo soooooo much!” – Darko

“Got the vouchers and set the appointments, really appreciate your help and your cause. You are an inspiration to us all! Thank you so much!” – Roy

LAA collaborates with Nebraska No Kill Canine Rescue

Submitted by Karl Skinner

Lincoln Animal Ambassadors and Nebraska No Kill Canine Rescue collaborated to alter seven dogs all living in the same home on Thursday, May 2!

John owns 2 unaltered male dogs and then his brother-in-law Ryan and girlfriend brought their 5 unaltered dogs (3 males, 2 females) from North Dakota and moved into John’s basement about a month ago. Those five dogs included a male black lab-springer spaniel mix, a female husky and the remaining three puppies from their litter of eight, born nine months ago.

None of the three pups had ever been to a veterinarian.

Ryan recently started a new job and is saving to get his own place, but needed help with his dogs. John wanted to keep the female puppy and promptly called LAA to request assistance on getting her and his two males altered. Three vouchers were issued and LAA president Mary Douglas reached out to rescue groups to find someone that could help Ryan with his four dogs, including the two they wanted to rehome. Nebraska No Kill Canine Rescue responded and provided transportation to the Spay Omaha Solution Lied Spay/Neuter Center where Ryan’s four dogs were altered, vaccinated and microchipped. Ryan has agreed to surrender his two remaining pups so Nebraska No Kill Canine Rescue is taking one and Taysia Blue Siberian Husky Rescue is taking the other.

That same day, John was busy redeeming his vouchers from LAA to alter his dogs as well. The day’s total for that household = 5 males neutered, 2 females spayed and perhaps numerous lives saved! By making their situation more manageable and providing education throughout the process Ryan and John are getting into the routine of taking better care of their pets with proper food and regular vaccinations so they move toward compliance with city ordinances and help their dogs live long, healthy lives.

This is sure to improve the lives of the people and pets involved. Rumor has it that the cats living in the home (previously altered) are very thankful that they won’t have to endure puppies in the near future!

The rain on the plain was a pain!

Mark your calendars for the rescheduled Wine & Howl fundraising event!

Saturday, July 13, 2013, 11am - 5pm
Deer Springs Winery, 162nd & E. Adams

Our first attempt at the 5th annual Wine & Howl event was a soggy one, but us dog lovers are a resilient bunch. We rescheduled this event and Lincoln Animal Ambassadors will host it’s 5th Annual Wine & Howl fundraiser at Deer Springs Winery on July 13th. It will fun from 11 am to 5 pm and will feature live music, vendors, a rescue roundup, food, and of course, wine. Deer Springs Winery is located just east of Lincoln on Adams at 162nd Street. Wine & Howl is held in this beautiful country setting, and you are encouraged to bring your dog(s), try the wines, listen to the music, and have a great time!

Wine & Howl features individual and corporate sponsors of food, music, raffle prizes, and wine. Last year’s attendance exceeded 400 people, and we expect that number to increase again this year. This is one of our major fundraisers through the year; last year we raised over $4,500. This fundraiser also helps raise awareness about local rescue groups and how these groups are assisting companion animals in our area.

"Change is inevitable. Change is constant" – Benjamin Disraeli

LAA's Pet Food Bank is changing!

By Mary Douglas

The Lincoln Animal Ambassadors criteria and rules for the pet food bank will change as of July 1, 2013 to a financial need basis. Recipients will continue to be able to receive assistance every 30 days, if they meet the new criteria. Previous recipients will be required to re-apply. Pet food distributions will be made per household and periodic reviews of financial circumstances will be required.

Another important change to the program is that it will now serve only residents of Lancaster County, Nebraska.

For more information and to view the new application and rules go to our website, www.lincolnanimalambassadors.org. Go to the "What we do" menu and click on Pet Food Bank. Applications can be initiated on-line with supporting financial information being mailed or e-mailed for review.

The LAA Pet Food Bank assists the working poor, disabled and down and out. It helps to make the pet food dollar stretch for these families so they don't have to make the painful decision to relinquish their family pet to the shelter or re-home them. Pets provide stability for their families during trying times. Unfortunately, often the pet is the first that is sacrificed in order to be able to afford food to feed the family. It is not only traumatic to the family, but to the pet, when they are re-homed at any age. LAA counsels recipients regarding good pet guardianship and the expenses of having a pet or pets, and discourages obtaining additional pets while using this program. This program is not meant to provide "every meal" for the households pets, but to assist them in feeding their pets. The program can only distribute what has been donated, and special requests are considered, but may not always be fulfilled.

The LAA Pet Food Bank program is solely sustained by monetary donations and grants and food donations by corporate and individual donors. The Lincoln community has risen admirably to the plight of impoverished families who need assistance feeding their pets. For that we THANK YOU!

If you would like to become a "FRIEND OF THE LAA PET FOOD BANK" please e-mail us at info@lincolnanimalambassadors.org and let us know this. When we are in need of specific items, such as cat litter, Frontline, specialty food, etc. we will e-mail the "Friends" and if you are willing and able at that time you can assist the program with a one time or multiple donations. Or, your organization, company or group could hold a pet food drive or fundraiser in support of the pet food bank. LAA invites you to become a part of the cause. LAA's spay/neuter program receives two more grants

Lincoln Animal Ambassadors was recently awarded a $2,000 grant from the Greg Biffle Foundation and a $5,000 grant from the Petco Foundation in support of our low-cost spay/neuter program.

The Greg Biffle Foundation was founded in 2006 by Greg and Nicole Biffle to create awareness and serve as advocates to improve the well-being of animals by engaging the power and passion of the motor sports industry. Greg Biffle is a NASCAR Sprint Cup driver. Since its creation, the Greg Biffle Foundation has awarded grants to over 500 humane groups and animal shelters across the country. Greg teamed up with other NASCAR drivers to help support Spay Day USA, a national campaign of the Humane Society of the United States to promote the life-saving benefits of spay/neuter.

The Petco Foundation has served as a voice for companion animals across the country since 1999.

Today, with more than 8,000 local animal-welfare partners across the country, the foundation donates approximately $15 million a year to make a difference in the lives of millions of animals. The organization is funded through donations raised during fundraisers conducted in Petco's more than 1,200 stores across the country, as well as from Petco associates, vendors and corporate contributions. Money raised helps fund animal-welfare organizations, spay and neuter efforts, animal-assisted therapy programs and humane education. The majority of the funds raised remain in the communities where they were raised, and the Petco Foundation is also involved in many national animal-welfare efforts. In 2012, the Petco Foundation surpassed $100 million in funds raised for companion animals since the organization was created.

Many local pets in need of spaying or neutering will receive assistance thanks to the Greg Biffle Foundation as well as the Petco Foundation. LAA has spayed or neutered 1,066 pets since we began our program in June 2010, which means we are working to decrease the pet overpopulation and subsequently reduce the numbers of pets that enter the shelter system or end up being euthanized. Eight local vets work with LAA to reduce Lincoln's pet overpopulation. We appreciate the support of the Greg Biffle Foundation and the Petco Foundation in this endeavor, as we are an all-volunteer organization and could not provide the services we do without grants such as this.

Remember, two cats and their offspring can produce 420,000 cats in seven years.

Two dogs and their offspring can produce 67,000 dogs in six years. Spaying or neutering just one animal can help save thousands of lives because nationwide, 56% of dogs and 72% of cats entering shelters are killed.

For more information on the Greg Biffle Foundation, please visit www.gregbifflefoundation.com. Petco is a leading pet specialty retailer that provides the products, services and advice that make it easier for their customers to be great pet parents. Everything they do is guided by their vision for Healthier Pets. Happier People. Better World. They operate more than 1,200 stores nationwide, including more than 50 Unleashed by Petco locations, a smaller format neighborhood shop, and www.petco.com.

The Petco Foundation, an independent nonprofit organization, has raised more than $100 million since it was created in 1999 to help promote and improve the welfare of companion animals. In conjunction with the Foundation, they work with and support approximately local animal welfare groups across the country to help find homes for more than 250,000 animals through in-store adoption events every year. To learn more, visit www.petcofoundation.org.

Banfield Charitable Trust donates $3,500 to LAA Pet Food Bank

Banfield
Charitable Trust

The Banfield Charitable Trust is an organization dedicated to helping keep pets and their people together. Their vision is to ensure that every wanted and loved pet can stay in their home. They strive to create strong and healthy bonds between pets and their owners so that pets are not left to uncertain futures in overcrowded shelters. They want to see pet families thrive.

Banfield's mission is to deliver programs that maintain the human-pet bond. They offer support for emergency and preventive veterinary care, they help struggling pet owners with their pet care needs, and they offer grants to pet-related organizations that are getting at the root causes of pet surrender.

Their emergency and preventive veterinary care programs help people facing financial challenges keep their pets healthy and offset costs in emergency medical situations.

Pet Peace of Mind® enables hospice patients to keep their pets at home with them throughout their end-of-life journey.

Their pet food program helps struggling pet owners feed their pets through an annual holiday event to collect food and monetary donations. Those donations are given to Meals On Wheels partners and nonprofits such as human food banks to maintain pet food banks and distribution programs.

Pet Advocacy Grants help local pet-focused organizations across the country address unique needs facing their communities and develop innovative projects that offer new ways to help pets.

Without donations from organizations such as the Banfield Charitable Trust, LAA would not be able to offer its pet food bank program. Thank you, Banfield, for your generous support! For more information on the Banfield Charitable Trust, please visit their website at www.banfieldcharitabletrust.org, or visit them on Facebook.

My dog is cool

The “dog days” of summer can be dangerous for dogs—especially those dogs left inside hot cars. Every year, countless dogs die after being locked in cars while their owners work, visit, shop, or run other errands. These tragic deaths are entirely preventable.

Most people are aware that, every year, children die after being left inside cars in hot weather. Fewer know that countless dogs die similar, terrible deaths, because such incidents are rarely reported to authorities.

The combination of warm weather and a closed car can literally be a killer for dogs.

Even leaving a dog for “just a minute” to run an errand can lead to tragic consequences. Every year, dogs suffer and die after being left inside cars during the summertime heat. These tragic deaths are entirely preventable.

Please don't leave your dog in a hot car this summer!

For more information on how you can keep your dog safe this summer, please visit www.redover.org or call them at 916.429.2457.

University of Nebraska Student Animal Legal Defense Fund Laws 4 Paws 5K Run

On April 6, the University of Nebraska Student Animal Legal Defense Fund held their first annual Laws 4 Paws 5K run. The race was held on the University's East Campus. Although the weather was a little chilly, the participants—human and canine—enjoyed the morning. Some walked, some ran, and a few of our four-legged friends even got carried across the finish line! Volunteers from the Student Animal Legal Defense Fund as well as LAA checked participants in, directed traffic, and handed out water and bananas. Several local animal rescue groups were represented and had dogs available for adoption.

Misty Christo, president of the Student Animal Legal Defense Fund, says, “Thank you for helping us to achieve our goals, and we look forward to growing and improving next year.”

The proceeds from the race benefit LAA's low-cost spay/neuter program. This is a great example of how the community comes together to support a worthy cause, and we thank the students for organizing this event!

Thank you!

On May 2, omt! (One More Time) divine women's resale boutique hosted a Lincoln Animal Ambassadors fund raiser where customers could shop, donate, and have fun while saving money! One item donated to LAA's pet food bank earned shoppers a 10% discount off their purchase. Refreshments were served, and shoppers got to enjoy a leisurely night of shopping the omt! store. Thank you, omt!

Super Saver at 56th & Hwy 2 held a pig ear promotion for LAA recently. For every pig ear sold, Super Saver donated one to LAA, garnering nearly 1,000 pig ears for our pet food bank. That's a lot of pig ears! Those treats will keep a lot of dogs happy. Thanks, Super Saver!
